Legislative Action Contacts

With all the political “activity” going on, it’s more important than ever to make your views known to your state and local representatives. The good news is that we (still) live a democracy; the bad news is that it isn’t always easy to know who to contact.

At the national level, things are easy. Each state gets 2 senators and a number of representatives based on population. Our senators are:

Johnson, Ron - (R - WI)

328 Hart Senate Office Building Washington DC 20510

202) 224-5323

Contact: www.ronjohnson.senate.gov/public/index.cfm/email-the-senator

Baldwin, Tammy - (D - WI)

709 Hart Senate Office Building Washington DC 20510

(202) 224-5653 Contact: www.baldwin.senate.gov/feedback

Currently Wisconsin has 8 congressional districts Richfield is in district #5 but you’ll have to check your exact residence location as the district boundaries are not intuitive.

The representative from district #5 is:

Jim Sensenbrenner

120 Bishops Way, #154

Brookfield, WI 53005

Phone: (262) 784-1111

2449 Rayburn HOB

Washington, DC 20515

Phone: (202) 225-5101

At the state level, things get much more complicated! “The Wisconsin state legislature is made up of two houses: the Wisconsin State Assembly, and the Wisconsin State Senate. Wisconsin is divided into 33 Senate districts, each of which is represented by one senator. Each Senate district is divided into three Assembly districts, for a total of 99 Assembly districts, each represented by one representative. Each district must contain about the same number of people, which means that urban districts are usually much smaller than rural ones. You can use this site to find out who your legislators are:

Remember, when contacting your representatives, be concise, polite, and honest. Our laws should reflect our goals and beliefs, make sure to make yours known!
